

Chan Hon Goh named head of ballet academy

By John Goodman, North Shore News, July 6, 2010

Chan Hon Goh
new Director of the Goh Ballet Academy.
Photograph by: Sian Richards, for North Shore
News

Chan Hon Goh, a former prima ballerina with The National Ballet of Canada, has been appointed Director of the Goh Ballet Academy and Goh Ballet Youth Company, effective September 1.

Goh, whose parents Choo Chiat Goh and Lin Yee Goh, founded the dance school in Vancouver in 1978, has performed in lead roles in ballets such as Romeo and Juliet, Swan Lake, The Sleeping Beauty, Onegin and the title roles in Giselle, Madame Butterfly and La Sylphide with ballet companies throughout Europe, Asia, Australia and North America.

Plans for the fall include the establishment of the Chan Hon Goh Scholarship Fund, which will award $100,000 to promising Goh Ballet students each academic year.

Visit www.gohballet.com for more information.

© Copyright (c) North Shore News